NEW POWDER DEMONSTRATION

Held at Providence Mine—Extraordinary Claims are Made for This Powder

TEST IN MINES PROVES SUCCESSFUL

Providence, Ky., Mar. 4.—Attended by fifty coal operators, and mine superintendents, District Inspector Long and others from the St. Bernard Mining Co., of Earlinton, interested in the development of safety methods in the handling of high explosives, particularly in coal production, representatives of the Hoynes Safety Powder Co., of Cleveland, O., conducted Thursday at the mines of the Providence Mining Co. a demonstration of the new explosives made by the Cleveland concern, in which a number of Evansville, Princeton and other Indiana business men are stockholders.

Extraordinary claims are made for the new explosives, and were demonstrated at the test here.

The makers of it claim for Hoy-senite, which is the name given the explosive, that it will when generally adopted result in a marked reduction and eventual elimination of the heavy loss of life and the great property damage heretofore prevailing in coal mine operations caused by dust and gas explosions as well as by accidental explosions in the handling of black powder, which is still used in more than 90 per cent of the mines throughout the country.

"The average American would be surprised to know that more than 30,000 American coal mine workers have met death, and probably twice that number have been maimed, through explosion in the United States, during a period of about ten years," said Wm. J. Hoynes, "yet the official records show that to be the case. Now and then, when a particularly heavy loss of life occurs such as at the Marianna, Pa., disaster, two or three years ago, or the

FLEW TO PARIS ON BUSINESS

French Aviator Broke Records and Braved English Channel

SAID COAL STRIKE HAD CRIPPLED MOVEMENTS

Paris, March 7.—Landing at Issy-les-Moulineaux, a suburb of Paris, at 11 o'clock this morning in a monoplane, Henri Salvey, the French flyer, brought with him a new world's record for a nonstop flight from London to this city.

Braving unfavorable weather and fighting much of his way across the English Channel through violent squalls, Salvey made the 222 miles in two hours and fifty seven minutes, or at the rate of seventy-nine and one-half miles an hour. His engine worked perfectly throughout the trip.

At 2:15 o'clock this afternoon, having transacted the business which brought him to Paris, the daring aviator climbed back into the seat of his monoplane and headed it back toward London. He expects to make slower time on the return trip, as the wind is against him.

Couldn't Depend on Trains

Salvey explained when he alighted that his trip had been purely on business and had been undertaken without a thought of setting any new records. He said the train and steamboat service between London and Paris had been so crippled by the coal strike that he had feared to trust to this means of travel, as his business was of a most urgent nature.

SEMI-WEEKLY BEE

School Notes

Supt. Dudley, Misses Weir, Sisk, Willis and Mothershead and Ralph Dudley were in Madisonville Saturday to hear Prof. Troop, of Chicago University who lectured on Hawthorne. These lectures are very entertaining and much enjoyed by the large number who are attending.

Misses Elizabeth, Margaret and Katherine Victory and Porter Willis are also taking the course of lectures given by Prof. Troop.

Parents are requested to see that their children remain in school until the end of the term. If they drop out before the final examinations, their entire years work will be lost, as they cannot be promoted to the next grade in the following term. Thus, the pupil will be handicapped throughout the entire school, and may lose all interest in education.

Domestic Science is now being taught in the Eighth Grade by Miss Goldie Weir. The lessons occur on every Friday afternoon and have been pronounced a great success by everyone.

Prof. Dudley spent Tuesday in Greenville, attending the conference of the Sunday School Board of Louisville.

ENGLISHMAN AT THE SOUTH POLE

Capt. Robert F. Scott Has Reached the Antarctic Goal

RESULT ANNOUNCED BY AMUNDSEN THE RIVAL NORWEGIAN EXPLORER

London, March 7.—Captain Robert F. Scott has discovered the south pole, according to a statement by Captain Roald Amundsen, in a dispatch today from Wellington, New Zealand.

The first message with the definite assertion from the Norwegian explorer that his English rival in the race had reached the antarctic goal was received by the Daily Express.

Amundsen has just returned from his south polar expedition in the steamer Fram, and his arrival was reported yesterday from Hobart, Tasmania.

Today's advices do not give the date of the discovery or mention the whereabouts of the Scott expedition, but the arrival of the captain at some far southern port is expected hourly.

MAXWELL BARKER NEW PRESIDENT

Of Nebo Consolidated Coal & Coke Company—Brother of President of State University

OUTPUT OF MINE TO BE INCREASED

Maxwell L. Barker, a wealthy coal operator of Louisville, has been elected president of the Nebo Consolidated Coal & Coke Co., to succeed Frank Fehr, also of Louisville.

A reorganization of the corporation took place last week, when it was decided to make great improvement at the mine and to increase the output enormously. Many modern improvements will be installed and the business put on a progressive footing.

The new president has been at the head of the Straight Creek Coal Co., at Pineville, Ky., for twenty years and sold his holdings in that concern only a few weeks ago. He immediately purchased controlling interest in the Nebo mine. He is an experienced coal operator.

Mr. Barker has a strong belief in the paying qualities of the Nebo mine. He is a brother of Judge Henry Barker, president of State University.

R. B. Winkler will remain as superintendent of the mine. The company is composed almost entirely of Louisville capitalists.

To The Public

I am in the Automobile Contest and hope to win; but I cannot do so without the assistance of friends. I ask that anyone who is not specially interested in the contest, and who has not pledged their votes, will vote them for No. 173. Anything you can do will be greatly appreciated.

For Women Who Care

Of course you use an antiseptic in your family and in the care of your own person, and you want the best.

Instead of what you have been using such as liquid or tablet antiseptics or peroxide, won't you please try Paxtine, a concentrated antiseptic powder to be dissolved in water as needed.

Paxtine is more economical, more cleansing, more germicidal and more healing than anything you ever used.

Paxtine ANTISEPTIC

In the toilet—to cleanse and whiten the teeth, remove tartar and prevent decay. To disinfect the mouth, destroy disease germs, and purify the breath. To keep artificial teeth and bridgework clean and odorless. To remove nicotine from the teeth and purify the breath after smoking. To eradicate perspiration odors by sponge bathing.

As a medicinal agent for local treatment of feminine ills where pelvic catarrh, inflammation and ulceration exist, nothing equals hot pouches of Paxtine. For ten years the Lydia E. Pinkham Med. Co. has been regularly advising their patients to use it because of its extraordinary cleansing, healing and germicidal power. For this purpose alone Paxtine is worth its weight in gold. Also for nasal catarrh, sore throat, inflamed eyes, cuts and wounds. All druggists, 25 and 50 cents a box. Trial box and testimony of 31 women free on request.

Something Nice

Miss Minerva and William Green Hill

By FRANCES BOYD CALHOUN

(Copyright, by Reilly & Britton Co.)

"I knows a man what ain't got no hair 't all on his head," remarked Billy; "he's a conjure-man an' me an' Wilkes Booth Lincoln been talkin' to him ever sense we's born an' he ain't never cuss us, an' I ain't never got eat up by no Teddy bear neither. Huccome him to be bald? He's out in the fel' one day a'pickin' cotton when he sees a tukey buzzard an' he talk to her like this:

"I say tukey buzzard, I say,
Who shall I see unexpected to-day?"

"If she flop her wings three times you goin' to see yo' sweetheart, but this-hee buzzard ain't flop no wings 't all; she jes' lean over an' thow up on his head an' he been bald ever since; evry single hair come out."

"Did you-all hear bout that Tallen Daggo that works on the section gang eatin' a buzzard?" asked Frances.

"Naw," said Billy. "Did it make him sick?"

"That it did," she answered; "he sent for Doctor Sanford and tells him, 'Me killa de big bird, me eat-a de big bird, de big bird make-me seek'."

"Them Daggoes 'bout the funniest talking folks they is," said Jimmy, "but they got to talk that way 'cause it's in the Bible. They spouted on the tower of Babel and the Lord say 'Confound you!' Miss Cecilia 'splained it all to me and she's 'bout the dandiest splainer they is."

"You may tell your tale now, Jimmy," said Lina.

"I'm going to tell 'bout William Tell 'cause he's in the Bible," said Jimmy. "Once there's a man name—"

"William Tell isn't in the Bible," declared Lina.

"Yes, he is too," contended the little boy. "Miss Cecilia 'splained it to me. You all time setting yourself up to know more'n me and Miss Cecilia. One time there's a man name' William Tell and he had a little boy what's the cutest kid they is and the devil come long and temp' him. Then the Lord say 'William Tell, you and Adam and Eve can taste everything they is in the garden 'cepting this one apple tree; you can get all the pears and bananas and peaches and grapes and oranges and plums and persimmons and scalybarks and fig leaves and 'bout a million other kinds of fruit if you want to, but don't you tech a single apple.' And the devil tech' him and say he going to put his cap on a pole and everybody got to bow down to it for a idol and if William Tell don't bow down to it he got to shoot a apple for good or evil off' his little boy's head. That's all the little boy William Tell and Adam and Eve got, but he ain't going to fall down and worship no gray image on top a pole, so he put a tomahawk in his bosom and he taken his bow and arruh and shot the apple plumb th'o the middle and never swings a hair of his head. And Eve nibble of the apple and give Adam the core, and Lina all time sputting 'bout Adam and Eve and William Tell ain't in the Bible. They're our first parents."

"Now, Billy, you tell a tale and then it will be my time," said Lina with a saving-the-best-for-the-last air.

"Once they was a o' witch," said Billy, "what got out her skin evy night an' lef' it on the heath an' turnt herself to a great, big, black cat an' go up the chim'ly an' go round an' ride folks for horses, an' set on ev'body's chis' an' such they breach an' kill 'em an' them come back to bed. An' can't nobody ketch her tell one night her husban' watch her an' he see her jump outer her skin an' drop on the heath an' turn to a enormous black cat an' go up the chim'ly. An' he got outer the bed an' put some salt an' pepper an' vinegar on the skin an' she come back an' turnt to a o'man an' try to git back in her skin an' can't cause the salt an' pepper an' vinegar mos' burn her up, an' she keep on a-tryin' an' she can't never snuggle inter her skin 'cause it keep on a burnin' worser 'n ever, an' there she is a o'man 'bout no skin on. So she try to turn back to a cat an' she can't 'cause it's pas' twelve er'clock; an' she jes' swivle an' swivle tell finey she jes' swivle all up. An' that was the las' of the ole witch an' her husban' live happy ever after. Amen."

"Once upon a time," said Lina, "there was a beautiful maiden and she was in love, but her wicked old parent wanted her to marry a rich old man threescore and ten years old, which is 'most all the old you can get unless you are going to die; and the lovely princess, said, 'No, father, you may out me in the twain but I will never marry any but my true love.' So the wicked parent shut up the lovely maiden in a high tower many miles from the ground, and made her live on turnips and she had nothing else to eat; so one day when she was crying a little fairy flew in at the window and asked, 'Why do you weep, fair one?' And she said, 'A wicked parent hath shut me up and I can't even see my lover any more.' So the fairy touched her head with her wand and told her to hang her hair out of the window, and she did and it reached the ground, and her lover, holding a rope ladder in one hand and playing the guitar and singing with the other, climbed up by her hair and took her down on the ladder and his big black horse was standing near, all booted and spurred, and they rode away and lived happy ever after."

"How he goin' to clam' up, Lina," asked Billy, "with a rope ladder in one hand and his guitar in the other?"

"I don't know," was the dignified answer. "That is the way it is told in my fairy-tale book."

CHAPTER IX.

Changing the Ethiopian.

Billy and Jimmy were sitting in the swing.

"What makes your hair curl just like a girl's?" asked the latter. "It's 'bout the curliest hair they is."

"Yes, it do," was Billy's mournful response. "It done worry me 'mos' to death. Ever sense me an' Wilkes Booth Lincoln's born we done try ev'thing fer to get the curl out. They was a Yankee man came long las' fall a-sellin' some stuff in a bottle what he call 'No-To-Kink' what he say would take the kink outer any nigger's head. An' Aunt Cindy bought a bottle fer to take the kink outer her hair an' me an' Wilkes Booth Lincoln put some on us heads an' it jes' make mine curlier'n what it was already. I's 'shame' to go round' folks with my cap off, a-lookin' like a frizzy chicken. Miss Cecilia say she like it though, an' she's engaged. We's goin' to git married soon'nt I puts on long pants?"

"How long you been here, Billy?" asked the other boy.

"Well, I don't know perfectly, but been to Sunday School four times.

I got engaged to Miss Cecilia that very firs' Sunday, but he did n' know it tell I went over to her house the nex' day an' tol' her 'bout it. She say she think my hair is so pretty."

"Pretty nothin'," sneered his rival. "She jus' stuffin' you fuller'n a tick with hot air. It just makes you look like a girl. There's a young lady come to spend a week with my mama not long ago and she put sompin' on her head to make it right yell'er. She left the bottle to our house and I know where 't is. Maybe if you'd put some o' that on your head 'twould take the curl out."

"Tain't nothin' a-goin' to do it no good," gloomily replied Billy. "Twould jest make it yell'er'n what 't is now. Won't I be a pretty sight when I puts on long pants with these here yaller curls stuck on topper my head? I'd 'nuther sight ruther be bal-headed."

"Bennie Dick's got 'bout the kinkest head they is."

Bennie Dick was the two-year-old baby of Mrs. Garner's cook, Sarah Jane.

"It sho' is," replied Billy. "Wouldn't he look funny if he had yaller hair, 'cause his face is so black?"

"I know where the bottle is," cried Jimmy, snatching eagerly at the suggestion. "Let's go get it and put some on Bennie Dick's head and see if it'll turn it yell'er."

"Aunt Minerva don't want me to go over to yo' house," objected Billy.

"You all time talkin' bout Miss Minerva won't let you go nowhere; Peoria, Ill.—"I wish to let every one know what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. Fortwoseconds I suffered. Mrs. Lynch Also Avoided Operation.

LIFE INSURANCE COMPANIES

They Are Closely Observing Public Health Conditions

An examining physician for one of the prominent Life Insurance Companies, in an interview on the subject, made the astonishing statement that the reason why so many applicants for insurance are rejected is because kidney trouble is so common to the American people, and the large majority of applicants do not even suspect that they have the disease.

He states that judging from his own experience and reports from drugists who are constantly in direct touch with the public, there is one preparation that has probably been more successful in relieving and curing these diseases than any remedy known. The mild and healing influence of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its remarkable record of cures.

We find that Swamp-Root is strictly an herbal compound and we would advise our readers who feel in need of such a remedy to give it a trial. It is on sale at all drug stores in bottles of two sizes—fifty-cents and one dollar.

However, if you wish first to test its wonderful merits, send to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for sample bottle, absolutely free. When writing be sure and mention the Earlington Semi-Weekly Bee.

A Cold, Lagrippe, Then Pneumonia

Is too often the fatal sequence, and coughs that hang on weaken the system and lower the vital resistance. R. G. Collins, Postmaster Barnegat, N. J., was troubled with a severe la grippe cough. He says: "I would be completely exhausted after each fit of violent coughing. I bought a bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar Compound and before I had taken it all the coughing spells had entirely ceased. Foley's Honey and Tar Compound can't be beat." It stops the cough by healing the cause. Refuse substitutes.

one at Briceville, Tenn., last December, the matter is chronicled with scare heads, on the telegraph pages of the daily papers. But by far the larger part of the fatalities occur in smaller groups and in the rush of our national daily life, pass unnoticed. The yearly death roll is still in excess of 2,000, with nearly double that number injured, in addition to those who are killed outright."

"Though the intelligent and enormously helpful activities of the men connected with the United States Government bureau of mines, an educational campaign has been aggressively conducted, for a few years past, which has been directly responsible for a material reduction in the number and severities of mine disasters. However, the bureau is limited to efforts of advisory nature only owing to our laws, so that the use of the deadly and ultra-dangerous explosives, such as black powder, still continue in nine-tenths or more of the mines throughout the United States. In European countries the use of black powder has been forbidden entirely, and is punishable. In this country, public opinion, and the voluntary action of progressive operators and mine workers will eventually cause its abandonment."

An extensive program of shots was carried out at the demonstration today, with a view to showing that the new explosives will not ignite coal dust nor gas and that it will not, when properly loaded, shatter the coal. Those in attendance at the demonstration expressed themselves as well pleased with the results accomplished with the new explosive.

W. H. McCurdy, F. M. Hills and J. S. Craft, of Evansville, H. C. Bow and Robert M. Parrett, of Princeton and A. G. Spillman and W. P. Whidber, of Earlington, attended the test.

The Surprise of the Spiritual

By REV. HUGH T. KERR
Pastor Fullerton Avenue Presbyterian Church, Chicago

TEXT.—The kingdom of heaven is like unto treasure hid in a field, the which when a man hath found, he hideth, and for joy thereof goeth and saith all to be bath and knoweth that field.—Matthew XIII, 44.

The discovery of hidden treasures was one of the expectant surprises of the past, said the Rev. Mr. Kerr. The secrecy of the soil was once the best security. Nero became the laughing stock of his people because he was induced to investigate a marvelous treasure-trove in a distant part of his dominions said to be waiting for a finder. Men of our day, too, have become the laughing stock of their fellows by selling their all to invest in mountains of rock said to contain acres of gold and stratas of shale and to secrete rivers of oil. But this man of the parable was no laughing stock, but the wonder of his age and the envy of many men.

Without searching for it, he discovered a treasure. The glittering gold shone before his very eyes. According to the law of the land it was his. His heart danced for very joy and in his joy he parted with everything he had and possessed himself of that miracle-working field.

God is better far than mountains of gold, said Jesus. To find God, to possess him, is worth the sacrifice of every other thing. God is the greatest discovery a man can make. Job cried out for God. Philip asked, after the father. Tennyson said the greatest desire of his life was to have a new vision of God. Let us follow the path of this unnamed discoverer and, if we can, learn his secret.

He was surprised into his discovery. It was all so unexpected and so amazing and so wonderful that he could not believe his eyes when the glittering gold and the shining silver lay spread out in a heap at his feet.

So does God sometimes surprise the souls of men. We would not be seeking him had we not already been found of him. Our search for God has been so long and so patient as has his search for us. Sometimes he discovers himself to us and ere we know it we are in his presence. Like Livingstone in the African wilderness, suddenly facing his discoverer, so does God discover us. Nicodemus may search for God in the secrecy of the night, but in the broad daylight Jesus reveals himself to the surprised Samaritan woman. Zacchaeus may climb the tree to see the Christ, but Jesus unexpectedly calls Matthew from his customary place.

So do men stumble upon God in life. Men are surprised into the spiritual by the very act of the eternal spirit they are not looking for God, they are found of him. Paul went with slaughter in his heart to Damascus and lo! he found not the Christians but the Christians' God. Verily, said the prophet, thou art a God that hidest thyself. The spiritual life from beginning to end is one long series of discovery. The hidden treasure of God's all-pervasive presence is ever revealing new wonders to our souls.

He was surprised into a new mental temperament. The very grammar dances with joy. The words as they fell from the lips of Jesus are bubbling over with a new found delight. The man walks as it were on air and lives his life in gladness of a present possession. So rejoiced is he in his new found treasure that he again hides it away as something too precious to exploit, and holds his secret for a little while at least, in selfish monopoly.

The spiritual life must ever surprise men into a very intoxication of delight. The early church was one great merry making community. The people of that age did not understand the abounding joy and the overwhelming gladness that possessed the Christians who sang in the midst of defeat and who rejoiced in tribulation. When God surprises the soul there is abounding light-heartedness and a burst of melody. Every revival of true religion has been accompanied with a burst of song.

The miners of Wales went down into the darkness with gospel songs upon their lips. In the prison-house of Phillipi Paul and Silas sang songs of joy until the very prison was smitten as with an earthquake. God, pity us for our dry-as-dust religion! There is no gospel in the religion of many of our people, and the missing note in our modern Christianity is the note of abounding joy and spiritual cheerfulness. Our missionary meetings are too often places of tears and tragedies. Our prayer services are too often a rendezvous for dispirited followers. Awake, awake, put on thy beautiful garments. Our Christ is a conqueror and our treasure is pure gold.

He was surprised into a new interpretation of sacrifice. In his joy he goeth and saileth all that he has, and buyeth that field. There is nothing to weep over in that transaction. There is no use to shed tears over that sacrifice. Indeed, there is no sacrifice. Men talk about sacrifices, said the immortal Livingstone; God knows I never made a sacrifice. This from the man who wore his life out to heal the open sore of the world, and we, with out petty self-denials talk about sacrifice!

If we wish the priceless treasure we must pay the price.

VISITOR COMMENDS SINGING OF LOCAL SCHOOL CHILDREN

Former Massachusetts School Superintendent Compliments Them

The following letter received The Brunswick, Ga., News, is self explanatory:

Editor News: I was a visitor in the city yesterday and happened to drop in at the art exhibit. The singing from the chorus of little children was the very finest of its kind I have ever heard. Having been a city school superintendent for many years in the State of Massachusetts, I believe I am a competent judge. Those who failed to hear it missed a rare treat.

I suggest that the young lady in charge (Miss Bourland, I think) be requested to repeat this exhibition that more of the people of your city have the opportunity to hear what so delighted me. Being interested above all else in education I feel moved to give this public expression of my appreciation.

Very sincerely
E. M. WHEELER.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you save a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surface.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Carrrah Cure. Send for circumstances.

When you feel dull, out of sorts, discouraged, half sick and everything seems to be going wrong, you can blame it on your liver. It is torpid. You need

HERBINE

A Medicine of Power in All Liver Disorders.

When the liver is torpid, it throws impurities into the system, which hamper every organ in the body. The result is that functional processes are not properly carried on. Impurities get into the blood, the stomach is bilious, the kidneys weak and the bowels irregular—generally constipated. Herbine clears out all these impurities, opens up the obstructed channels, strengthens the torpid liver, cleanses the blood, purifies and regulates the bowels. After the system has been thus overhauled, there is an immediate improvement. Appetite returns, digestion is good, the spirits rise, the mind clears of gloomy forebodings and everything looks bright and cheerful, which means, sound, healthy conditions everywhere in the body.

CAUSE FOR ALARM

Loss of Appetite or Distress After Eating A Symptom That Should Not Be Disregarded

Appetite is just a natural desire for food. Loss of appetite or stomach distress after eating indicate indigestion or dyspepsia. Over-eating is a habit very dangerous to a person's good general health.

It is not what you eat but what you digest and assimilate that does you good. Some of the strongest, heaviest, and healthiest persons are moderate eaters.

There is nothing that will cause more trouble than a disordered stomach, and many people daily contract serious maladies simply through disregard or abuse of the stomach.

We urge all in Earlington who suffer from any stomach derangement, indigestion, or dyspepsia, whether acute or chronic, to try Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets, with the distinct understanding that we will refund their money without question or formality, if after reasonable use of this medicine, they are not perfectly satisfied with the results. We recommend them to our customers every day, and have yet to hear of any one who has not been benefited by them. They give very prompt relief, aiding to neutralize the gastric juices, strengthen the digestive organs, to regulate the bowels, and eradicate all unhealthy symptoms.

We urge you to try a 25c box of Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets, which gives 15 days' treatment. At the end of that time, your money will be returned to you if you are not satisfied. Of course, in chronic cases, length of treatment varies. For such cases, we have two larger sizes, which sell for 50c and $1.00. Remember, you can obtain Rexall Remedies in this community only at our store—the Rexall Store.

"A railroad train was rushed through one of the country towns of North Carolina on a sultry summer day. As the train whirled around a curve a yellow dog jumped up from the side of the track and ran after the train a short distance. A farmer, passenger on the train, watched the dog thoughtfully until the train had lost it to sight. He then leaned over to his neighbor across the aisle and said:

"Mister, what d'ye suppose that 'ar dog would 'a' done with this here train if he'd 'a' caught it?"

In freshness and dexterity of utterance and in inexhaustible originality breezy, distinctive, amusing, brilliant, noteworthy, vivid, tumultuous, natural and forceful. He will appear at the Temple Theatre March 19, under the auspices of public school Lyceum Course. Admission 50cts and 25cts.

Good Crops of Oats were Formerly the Rule; Now a Good Crop is the Exception.

One reason is starvation—the lack of the right kinds of plant food in the right form, available at the right time. The result is weak plants that grow slowly, yield light, craggy grain and fall an easy prey to rust, blight and insects.

POTASH

has been shown to greatly decrease the liability of the small grains to attacks of rust as well as lodging because of weak straw. Be sure that your oats fertilizer contains 6 to 8 per cent. Potash. Ask your dealer to carry such brands, or Potash Salts, to enable you to bring the brands up to this standard.

If he will not, we will sell you Potash in any amount from a 200-pound bag up. Write for prices and for free book on fertilizer formulas and how to adjust them.

FACTS ABOUT KENTUCKY WORKING WOMEN

Woman's Club of Louisville, Compiles Figures as to Hours and Wages

There are about 80,000 women in factories, mills, workshops and stores in the State of Kentucky.

In 1911 an investigation of 186 factories was made covering 11,048 of these women in Louisville, Covington, Paducah, Henderson, Lexington and Owensboro.

Their hours of work were found to be long and their wages low in comparison to the cost of living in these cities—$6.50 being the lowest amount on which a girl can support herself in Louisville.

Following are a few facts and figures:

Some girls stand all day long tending several complicated machines running at top speed. Some do over and over one small monotonous task. Some sit at sewing machines and have a forebody constantly urging greater and greater hurry until the nervous strain becomes unbearable.

Many are worked to the point of exhaustion in badly ventilated factories amid unsanitary surroundings, and become physical wrecks for the paltry wages of $2.00 or $3.00 a week.

2,600 women in garment trades in forty-eight establishments. Hours irregular, varying from thirteen a day in busy times to no work at all for three months in the year.

8,000 women in twenty-seven tobacco factories, where the danger of contracting tuberculosis is very great.

1,195 women in nine mills, where they work eleven hours a day, five days a week, in order to have a shorter day Saturday. Wages are generally paid by the piece, so the girls run from six to ten looms in order to make even a fair wage. The majority of the mills are dark, poorly ventilated and dirty.

438 girls in candy and chewing-gum factories. Overtime so bad that girls sometimes work thirteen hours a day every day for weeks and months. They have to remain sitting all day or standing all day. Conditions so bad that some factories are changing employees daily.

1,601 women in thirty-six stores. Overtime is customary before Christmas, Saturday nights, before all big bargain sales, and other times, but is never paid for except by a supper in insanitary conditions by indifferent employers.

There is, however, a bill before the State Legislature to regulate the hours which women may be employed, to compel stores to furnish seats, to insist upon sanitary surroundings.

These facts were brought out at a meeting of the Woman's Club of Louisville, Feb. 20th, and on motion it was decided to send them to all the newspapers of the State and ask for editorials.

"Why in the world did you make that formal application to have your salary cut?" "Because," replied the meet yet obstinate man, "I wanted to be sure of having my own way about something."

Wormy children are unhappy, puny and sickly. They can't be otherwise while worms eat away their strength and vitality. A few doses of WHITE'S CREAM VERMIFUGE performs a marvelous transformation. Woodpecker's Hearing.
It is not easy to explain why woodpeckers select one tree rather than others of the same kind in the forest upon which to begin their operations, or why they attack one side of a tree and leave the other untouched. Commonly it will be found, no doubt, that worms or ants are concealed beneath the point selected and that the woodpecker is guided in his search by the sense of hearing.

The syrup relaxes the tightness and the plaster draws out the inflammation. It is an ideal combination for curing colds settled in the lungs. A GREAT OFFER

The Vulture's Claw, a Hand-somely Bound $1.50 Book for 50c

For a limited time we will sell you the Twice-a-Week Earlington Bee, price $1.00 per year, and the (Vulture's Claw) by Rev. C. F. Wimberly, price $1.50, both for the price of $1.50. The Vulture's Claw is one of the best romances by modern writers and should be read by every man, woman and child in Hopkins County. A copy of the book can be seen at this office. Read what some of the people you know say about the book.

WM. JENNINGS BRYAN SAYS:

"Rev. C. F. Wimberly, Madisonville, Ky.—My Dear Mr. Wimberly: I have read 'The Vulture's Claw'; it is a splendid story. The book should find a place in libraries and among the books for young people. You have succeeded admirably in combining moral lessons with an interesting narrative. I congratulate you. Yours truly, W. J. BRYAN."

RELIGIOUS TEACHINGS ARE EXCELLENT

It held my interest from start to finish, and I enjoyed as much as anything I have read for a long time. The moral and religious teachings are excellent, and no one can read it and not feel much benefited.—C. E. Dudley, Supt. Earlington (Ky.) schools.

THE LOUISVILLE TIMES SAYS:

"The Vulture's Claw" is an absorbingly interesting story, with a deep religious moral. The story takes its name from a miserly grasping hypocrite whose left hand is deformed into the shape of a claw and his character is so much like a vulture that the title of the book is peculiar apt. Mr. Wimberly introduces more than a dozen interesting characters and a multiplicity of situations which he handles with a master hand. His descriptive work is nothing short of genius.

AN UPLIFTING FORCE

A remarkable book; it has that strange infinable charm and power which holds us to the very last page. It shows the battles among the hard environments, and the victories that may be won. It will be an uplifting force in every life which only eternity can measure.—St. Louis Christian Advocate.

Remember the Twice-a-Week Bee one year and this handsomely bound $1.50 book for only $1.50, the price of the book alone.

Importance of Self-Control.
The ability to restrain appetite, passions, tongue and temper, to be their master and not their slave—in a word, absolute self-control—is also of first importance. One who can not govern himself is unfitted to govern others.—Marshall Field.

You Need Stationery.

Nothing gives an individual or a firm standing in the business world like nice stationery neatly printed. Co. G Complimented

The following clipping from a Bardwell paper shows the estimation in which Co. G was held while on recent duty in that city:

Well Behaved Bunch

"The soldiers who were on duty here at the trial were well behaved young men and not a word of complaint could justly be registered against their conduct. In the discharge of their duties during the trial Saturday morning they were polite to all, yet carried out the orders given them to do their duty."

Esteem That Is Lasting.

"There is no occasion to regard with continual dislike one who had formerly a mean opinion of your merits; for you are never so sure of permanent esteem as from the man who once esteemed you lightly, and has corrected his mistake—if it be a mistake."—Sir Arthur Helps.

Wanted Harmony.

Mrs. de Style—"Marie, I shall take one of the children to church with me." The Maid—"Yes'm." Mrs. de Style—"Which one will go best with my new purple gown?"—Boston Transcript.

Elegance In Humility.

"Can anything be so elegant as to have few wants, and to serve them's self?"—Emerson.

Show Big Success

"A Royal Slave" was given at the Temple Theatre last evening and was decidedly the best play staged in Earlington this season. Each actor deserves much praise for the rendition of his part. "Aquilla" the old Indian servant deserves especial mention. It is hoped that manager Brinkley will be able to secure other shows as good as this one.

Munchausenisms.

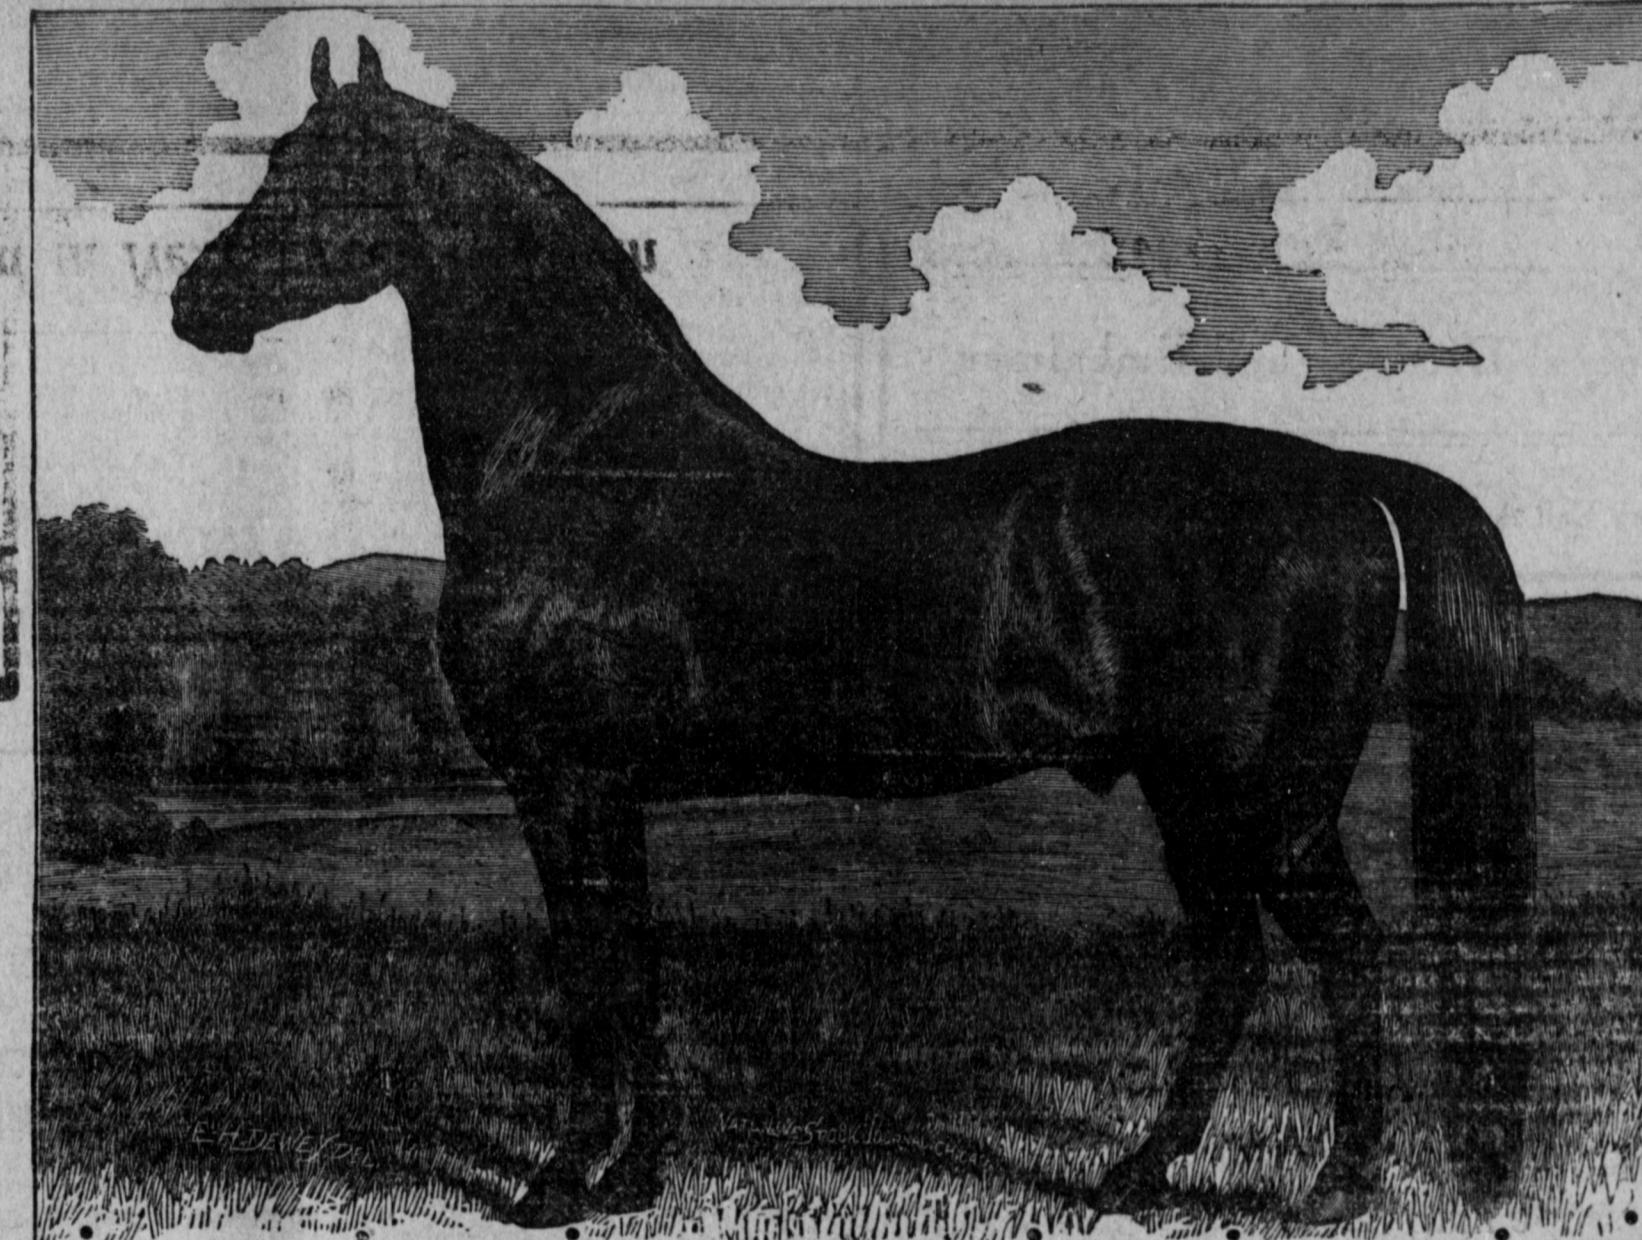

A New York journal says there are cornstalks in Connecticut "as large as a small tree." How convenient! Now, in the Ohio valley bottom lands the chief drawback to corn raising is that the squirrels climb the stalks and when safely out of rifle range eat the ears, while the airship in its present development wobbles so that it is no good to shoot from.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Piece of Good Advice.

They will never grind with the water that is frost. The human body is about two-thirds liquid. If you are a "cold proposition"—better "warm up" and you will find the "grind" a whole lot easier.

Success Matter of Will Power.

"Don't flinch, flounder, fall over, nor fiddle, but grapple like a man. A man who wills it can go anywhere, and do what he determines to do."—John Todd.

Let us print your horse bills this season and save you money. We have new cuts and guarantee satisfactory work and prices.

SEMI-WEEKLY BEE, Earlington, Ky.

Mixed.

The Caller (who has been looking over her hostess' books)—Do you enjoy "Marcus Aurelius"? The Hostess (delayed by her toilet and a little illustrated)—Oh, yes; where is he now? The last time I saw him he was in "The Sign of the Cross." Such a manly figure, wasn't he?—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Overcome Indolence First.

The first step in the discipline of the mind is the overcoming of indolence. This is the easiest step, and until it is perfectly accomplished, the other steps cannot be taken.—James Allen.

Daily Thought.

Nothing in the world is so hard to counter as suspicions that cannot in the nature of things be disproved or brought to the test of fact, that relate less to the present than to some indefinite future, and that tend through infinite repetition and by their very elusiveness to acquire a certain credibility.—Sydney Brooks.

A Resolve.

"Not frequently or of necessity to say to anyone or to write in a letter that I have no leisure, nor continually to excuse the neglect of duties required by our relations to those with whom we live, by alleging urgent occupations."—Marcus Aurelius.

Worry as a National Error.

In the measure in which thou seekest to do thy duty shalt thou know what is in thee. But what is thy duty? The demand of the present hour."—Goethe.

At the door of worry are laid 50 per cent of the troubles of the American people. Scientists who have devoted themselves to a study of worry and its influence on the mind, do not hesitate to say that Americans are the worst offenders.

Advertising DOES NOT PAY UNLESS you put time and thought in it or get someone to do it for you. You know a stove will not cook anything unless there is a hot fire in it, and it is the same way with advertising; it must be ablaze with reminders of what people need and want. $30 is the smallest price ad you can put in the Saturday Evening Post and thousands of people spend that every week for advertising—so it pays. Some companies spend six thousand dollars a week for advertising—surely it pays well.
